Introduction

I want to create a better, personal website after learning the tools needed from this course.

Having a personal website would benefit me and future recruiters that take a look at my website and see how I made it, what projects I have listed on there, and so on.

Expected List of Features

Main feature would be responsive design on all screen sizes (from mobile to desktop) so that anyone can view it on any device.

Also include various colors, transitions, etc to make the website more attractive to people viewing it.

Market Survey

There are some very fancy and nice personal websites out there. Breaking it down, they have some of the basic features I want, just to the “next level.” Meaning a mix of colors, cool transitions, etc.

For example, here is a really great personal website I found : <https://www.calix.dev/>

Something of this nature would be really cool to build!
